Project Description

In the spring of 2012, Boss Engineering teamed up with Lindhout Associates to development plans for the redesign of the Livingston Educational Services Agency (L.E.S.A.) facility. Much of the asphalt parking lot had deteriorated, portions of the site did not comply with the current A.D.A. requirements, and the number of parking spaces did not meet the current or future needs of the complex. Working with L.E.S.A. staff, a plan was developed which decreased the parking lot and sidewalk slopes, improved pedestrian circulation and safety, and increased the number of parking spaces. Boss was responsible with site planning, site engineering, landscape design and construction detailing.
