Project Description

Willowbrook Rehabilitation Center is a facility that focuses on rehabilitation services for brain injury patients. The company provides both in house and at home treatment for clients. Clients are brought in on a daily basis. Therefore, it was critical that the parking and walking areas were designed and graded to allow easy access to the facility. The developer requested the surround landscaping be pleasing and relaxing. Boss Engineering's responsibilities included overall site planning, site engineering, planting design and hardscape design for the treatment facility.
